

10 PER CENT. REDUCTION.

PLEASE READ.

As it is customary in other business to make a Summer reduction, it has been decided in mailing out the remnant of the catalogues, first issued in January last, to allow a discount of 10 per cent. on all orders received before Sept. 1.

This, of course, is dependent on the coins being still on hand as there has been six months selling from the catalogue and a number, particularly in the Cent series, are already disposed of.

The Supplementary List on this sheet includes additional coins which are also subject to the same discount. Where they are duplicates, in about same condition, of coins quoted in Jan. list, it can be taken for granted that those originally quoted in Jan. have been sold.

Soliciting orders at these reduced rates, I remain

Yours truly,

CHAS. STEIGERWALT,

130 EAST KING ST.,

LANCASTER, PA.

1794 HALF CENTS.

The following notes should be added to the article on 1794 Half Cents published in April "Curio."

A new combination, 1-D, has been found. This reverse D can be distinguished from A very readily by the first S in STATES, which has a horn at upper left, and by a die-break through second T.

Scott's Coin Collector's Journal for February, 1880, has a short article on 1794 Half Cents, describing 6 varieties. One of these would be my 4-E, a combination I have not, as yet, met with but which probably exists. If any collector finds it, I would be pleased to have information of same.

With the 1-D and 4-E (if existant), 10 differing combinations have been identified.

Obverse 4 seems to be the rarer ; it is found with B-C-D and probably E and all are rare as are also 1-B and 1-D.

OBITUARY.

It was with great regret that his many friends heard, last month, of the death of the well known collector, DeWitt S. Smith. Courteous and dignified, he was one of those gentlemen with whom it was always a pleasure to do business. His interest in coins was maintained until the very last and his collection is in the front rank, among the select few, both in rarity and value. In the Colonial series and Pioneer gold, it probably cannot be excelled. What disposition will be made of it has not yet been ascertained.

The recent death of Dr. Geo. F. Heath, publisher of "The Numismatist," has also been announced. Whether the magazine will be continued under other management or cease with the July No. is not yet known.
